ROLE CARD 4 · WAREHOUSE · INTERVIEWER'S BRIEF

The delivery

You are an instructional designer. You are going to interview a warehouse team leader.

The project

A short eLearning module for new warehouse operators, who will have to receive a delivery from a truck driver, on their own.

Your goal: find out…

1. the steps, in the right order;
2. one decision point (when « it depends »);
3. the most common mistake beginners make;
4. who to call when something goes wrong;
5. the words a beginner wouldn't know;
6. anything the SME would only tell you in person.

How it works

- 2 min: prepare your opening and five questions.
- 8 to 10 min: the interview. Set expectations, ask open questions, probe, redirect politely.
- 1 min: the read-back: « So the way I have it… Did I get that right? »

Remember

Thanks for making time for this. · This module is for… · What I'm hoping to accomplish is… · Could you walk me through…? · Tell me about a time when… · Depends on what? · What goes wrong most often? · What would that look like if a beginner were doing it? · That's interesting, but going back to our goal… · So, if I understand correctly… · Is there anything you'd only tell someone in person?
